

Clare Parkhouse

Call: 2022

Overview

Clare joined Chambers in September 2024 having successfully completed her pupillage under the supervision of David Jukes, Alice Nash and Thomas Crockett. She accepts instructions across all of Chambers' practice areas.

During pupillage Clare gained experience drafting pleadings, advices and skeleton arguments in all aspects of medical law and professional liability. She also attended conferences, hearings and settlement meetings and assisted at inquests, including advising on self-referral to the GMC. In addition, Clare contributed research to a Chambers seminar on the new Fixed Recoverable Costs regime and undertook noting briefs in the High Court. Clare has also built a busy County Court practice including trials and application hearings.

Prior to pupillage Clare worked as a litigation assistant at a leading medical defence organisation, assisting an in-house team of solicitors with medical and dental negligence claims. This role included drafting statements of case, instructions, application notices and witness statements, as well as attending hearings, settlement meetings and conferences with experts. Clare also provided support to the in-house regulatory team including assisting legal advisers and counsel in hearings at the General Dental Council.

Education

City Law School, 2019-2021

- Bar Vocational Studies, Distinction.
- Graduate Diploma in Law, Commendation.

Trinity College Dublin, 2014-2019

- International Politics MSc, Merit.

- History BA, First Class Honours.
-

Scholarships

- Inner Temple BPTC Exhibition Award 2020
 - City Law School BVS Scholarship 2020
 - Trinity College Dublin Foundation Scholarship 2016
-

Further Information

ICO Data protection registration number: ZB665790

Clare Parkhouse is a barrister regulated by the Bar Standards Board. Click here to Clare Parkhouse's Privacy Notice.